Thelusson left an estate of $2.5 million to be divided among his grandchildren, or if there were none, the proceeds were to be applied to a national debt. Lord Rendelsham, a descendant of the eccentric Thelusson's will was probated causing the passage of a special act lifting deferred legacies to twenty years. So it was plainly illegal to put as another chap did recently, $500,000 at compound interest for the life of Birmingham for 999 years at three per cent. it would amount to a trifle of $294,495,000,000. To be sure, than Rockefeller is a perfectly reasonable matter. Only it takes so long every thousand feet of lumber, recently it appeared that the parties directly involved in the trade were the saw mill men and the roads, but the owners of timber are now beginning to realize the advance in freight rates is exerting a depressing effect on the prices of sales of such lands.

There is much talk now of the owners of timber lands, the saw mill men in fighting to increase before the interstate commission and the courts.

The feeling against the railroads is growing stronger.

THE STATESBORO NEWS,

Entered at the post office at Statesboro as 2nd class mail matter

Statesboro, Ga., Friday, Oct. 20, 1903

Published Tuesday and Fridays by THE STATESBORO NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY.

Bryan and Hill have been talking, and we may get together.

Senator Stewart married at 70, a Georgia lady, in Atlanta.

Roosevelt is 45, but is still not a statesman, but well represents modern politics.

Hearst has been to Atlanta and the city made a big demonstration in his honor.

We are making up our Savannah Fair Exhibit in addition to what we have at Macon, which will be transferred. We will ship two or three car loads down from Statesboro Monday or Tuesday. If you have anything that will add to our attractions there we will be glad to get it. We must carry off the first honors at Savannah.

Superior Court.

This has been a busy week with the lawyers and others who have had troubles to relate to Judge Evans and the "Gentlemen of the jury." On Wednesday morning the criminal docket was taken up and a large number of cases have been tried, most of which have resulted in the conviction of the parties accused. This morning the civil docket was taken up again and the balance of the week will be devoted to this side of the court. An adjournment to the second Monday in December will be had to-morrow.

A Plea for the School Fund

Prof. Cone of Statesboro, Bulloch county, makes what seems to us to be a strong argument against counties which do nothing for their public schools by local taxation, accepting their pro rata share of convicts under the new convict lease, thereby working the public roads at the expense of the schools. He points out that Bulloch county's school fund, about three-fourths from the state and one-fourth from the taxpayers of the county and that if the county accepts her pro rata of convicts her school fund will be cut down about one-fourth, or just about the amount that the county contributes towards the fund. The county will be placed in the position of contributing nothing towards the education of her children. It is certain if the county accepts her pro rata of convicts she ought to impose a tax upon herself for school purposes. It is of course important that she should have good roads, but she ought not to lower the standard of her schools in order to get the means of making them good.

The argument has been advanced that if the roads of the county were improved they would attract immigration and bring about an increase in the value of the lands. That argument has a solid foundation, but the fact must not be overlooked that if the county hasn't good schools she will not attract immigrants, even though she has good roads. Bulloch is too rich and progressive a county to permit a decline in the standard of her schools. She cannot afford to do so, and if her County Commissioners insist upon accepting the county's pro rata of convicts her people should insist upon a local tax for school purposes that would yield an amount as great as that which will be taken from the county school fund by that means.

Indeed, they would be in the line of progress if they should decide upon a policy of local taxation for school purposes that would put the schools upon a higher plane than they have ever yet been. The more the schools cost the people the more they will be appreciated, and the more eager the people will be to get every possible benefit out of them. Of course we do not advocate a local school tax that would be excessively burdensome. It should be within reason, but large enough to provide good school houses and competent teachers.—Morning News.

The Advice Is Good.

The following excellent advice of how to build up a town we clip from an exchange:

Praise it. Improve it. Talk about it. Write about it. Trade at home. Be public spirited. Tell of its business men. Take a home pride in it. Remember it is your home. Tell of its business resources. Trade and induce others to trade. Look ahead of self when all the town is to be considered. Don't call your best citizens frauds and impostors. Support your local institutions that benefit your town. Help your public officers to do the most good for the people. Don't forget you live off the people here, and you should help others as they help you. Don't advertise in your local paper "to help the editor," but advertise to help yourself. It is the duty of every citizen to aid in building up his town and his country. No man has a right to be a drone in any community. We cannot all be financiers, but we can all aid in the upbuilding of the town in which we live by speaking a good word whenever an opportunity presents itself.

Call and be convinced that I have the cheapest and best selected line of dry goods, notions etc., to be seen in this entire section. An inspection will convince you. W. B. Lee, Pulaski, Ga.

Wanted To Preach In Hell

Friends of a Montgomery, Ala. preacher of the name of Gay were astonished a few days ago to hear him express a desire to go to hell. "Do you mean it?" he was asked. "I certainly do," he replied. "I hope to preach there to lost souls and show them the way to final salvation. Hell is a good place for evangelists, and I think God will send a number of us to hell to preach." The Rev. Gay says he has been converted to Dowism and that the evangelization of lost souls is one of the tenets of the Dowie doctrine.—Savannah morning News.

If a man can be saved after he has reached the abode of the damned it is strange that it is necessary to send Missionaries down there. If it were a part of the divine plan to send satellites of Dowie to hell to assist in tormenting those who have been consigned to that place there would be no surprise, but to send a minister there to endeavor to get them to lead better lives seems rather strange. What sort of a place, anyhow, do the followers of Dowie think hell is?—Courier Dispatch.

WARNING.

How Editor Hearst Spends His Money.

A Highly Interesting Story Related By Governor Terrell's Porter, Howard Russell.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 28.—When Editor W. R. Hearst reached Atlanta Friday last at noon he was disappointed in not finding his valet here to meet him at the depot and take charge of his baggage. It was not the valet's fault, however, that he was not here, but was due to a delayed train from the east. In his absence, Howard Russell, the governor's porter, was called into service, and he remained at Editor Hearst's elbow during his stay in the city.

Bad Coughs

"I had a bad cough for six weeks and could find no relief until I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Only one-fourth of the bottle cured me."

Neglected colds always lead to something serious. They run into chronic bronchitis, pneumonia, asthma, or consumption.

Don't wait, but take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral just as soon as your cough begins. A few doses will cure you then.
